

CHECKOUT

Behold iPhone 2.0

Worried that the first-generation iPhone won't deliver the "real revolution" Steve Jobs promised? Just wait. Here's an exclusive peek at iPhone 2.0 and its accessories

BY JOE ZEFF DESIGN INC. AND LISA TAKEUCHI CULLEN

A ring with more bling

The iPhone 2.0's platinum housing is sleek, but you need a platinum credit card to buy one.

Upgraded software

The do-it-all device really can do it all this time! High-speed access to the superpowers you need most.

Electrode compatibility

Connects directly to your brain for hands-free operation. Synchs as you think!

iCantKeepUp

Want the latest technology without the learning curve? Simply place your iPhone in this rotary-dial docking station, and call a friend the old-fashioned way! Easily networked with IBM Selectric emulator and eight-track-player interface adapter.

iPed

The iPhone puts a world of information at your fingertips, but why stop there? Slip your feet into these touch-screen sandals, and increase your productivity tenfold! A dream come true for multitaskers with their hands full.

iThrone

Stow your iPhone in this wall-mounted toilet-paper dispenser, and catch up on bathroom reading without the risk of water damage. Also delivers fresh iScents, but with caller ID, you'll still be able to tell when nature calls!

